OBJECTIVES

- To expose students to different life styles and places.
- To apply theory into practice
- To develop observation skills in agriculture market.

REPORT

On 15th March 2022, 23 students of BA (HEP) under the supervision of Sri. T.Rajasekhar Lecturer in Economics went for a field trip to agriculture market in Punganur, with an aim to visit different Tomato Mandies and to find out the prices of Tomatoes between local and regulated markets. And also to create awareness among the students about agricultural product prices, packing, and auction system and how to preserve the agricultural products etc. The trip started at college at 10.30 AM and reached the tomato market by 11.00 AM. Then the students observed how the auction takes place, timings, storage, grading, cooperative system, difference in rates, transport, packing etc. The trip ended by 4.00 pm. It was concluded that the trip was successful and we believed that our objectives were achieved. It was a well recommended trip especially for B.A Students.

OUTCOMES

Students learned about

- Various types of storing, packing, transportation of agricultural products.
- About market prices and Tomato auction and its procedures.
- Communication and soft skills.
